DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 4 recites the limitations "the front axle" and "the rear axle" in lines 3 and 5, respectively. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 – 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dias (GB 2 327 916).

Dias discloses a transport car with rollers (4), all of which can be steered, comprising: an anti-theft protection wherein two or more of the rollers are fixable in a predetermined steering position (page 2, paragraph 2, lines 19 – 23). Said fixed steering position can be different for each roller (page 2, paragraph 3). Said rollers are mounted on a front and rear axle (Fig. 4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dias (GB 2 327 916) in view of Prather (US 6,271,755).

Dias meets all the limitations of the claimed invention, but does not explicitly disclose a front wheel fixed in an diagonal position and a rear wheel fixed in a straight position. Prather et al. disclose a transport cart wherein a configuration for inhibiting theft comprises a front wheel (62) fixed in a diagonal position and a rear wheel (80) fixed in a straight position. It has been held to be obvious to one of ordinary skill to choose from a finite number of identified, predictable solutions with a reasonable expectation of success. See KSR International Co. v. Teleflex Inc., 550 USPQ2d 1385 (2007). As there are only 4 wheels, each having only 2 orientations (i.e. diagonal position and straight position), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to select a configuration that would most effectively inhibit movement of the cart. In light of the teachings of Prather, it would have been obvious to try a configuration wherein a front wheel is fixed at a diagonal angle and a rear wheel is fixed at a straight angle.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record, but not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
